
EARN-A-BIKE

Looking for a summer project for your child?

Bike Works (3709 S Ferdinand, Seattle, 206-725-9408) offers an Earn-A-Bike program for kids ages 9-17. The kids learn bike repair through a series of classes, then swap 24 hours of community bike repair toward their own recycled cycle (which comes with a free and mandatory helmet of course). Program coordinator David Wiktorski says Earn-a-Bike, which started in 1996, tries to help 130 youths get a free bike each year. Classes start quarterly. The program has a $25 fee, which can be waived.
