FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

WILL THERE BE AN AUCTION?

Yes! Our auction will open online the week before our event, and we have some fantastical auction packages in the works. (Don't worry, we'll remind you). Anyone can bid online leading up to and during the event – even if they're not event guests! Please spread the word far and wide when the time comes.

IS THERE A DRESS CODE THIS YEAR?

Though you will be signing in to this event from the comfort of your own home, we encourage you to wear something that will make this event feel special, and send us a picture for our "virtual photo booth"! This year, the theme is, The Magic of the Bicycle. Spellbinding costumes are encouraged, though whatever makes you feel fabulous will be just right. We will be asking for you to send in pictures so we can see your outfits and your faces in the event slideshow—let's have some fun together!

HOW CAN I SPREAD THE WORD?

We encourage you to invite friends, family, and colleagues who care about bicycles and social justice to join us from anywhere in the world! You can forward the emails we send you, or use this template language to copy, paste, and edit as you see fit:

Join me in supporting Bike Works, a Southeast Seattle nonprofit with a mission to promote the bicycle as a vehicle for change to empower youth and build resilient communities. At 5 pm PST on Sunday, October 11 we'll celebrate The Magic of the Bicycle online at Bikecitement! Learn more and register for this virtual fundraising dinner and auction at bikeworks.org/auction

We encourage you to host your guests as a Table Captain by putting together a virtual table with an online after-party! It's a great way to invite your friends to join you in supporting Bike Works and to build community around biking and social justice. If you're interested, email Julie for more information.
