

Khaleelah Rahsaan is a bilingual educator, mentor, leader, advocate, mother, and wife. Currently, she is the assistant principal at Evergreen High School. This is her fifth year as an assistant principal. She taught Spanish at Chief Sealth International High School for eleven years. During her time as a teacher at Chief Sealth, she was a bike mentor for the Major Taylor bike club. It was so fulfilling for her to connect weekly for rides with the students, to see them develop a passion for cycling, and to complete the Seattle to Portland ride, which she did twice with students. She enjoys working with students and their families. Currently, she enjoys leisure bike rides, peloton bike rides, hot yoga, spending time with her beautiful sons Marco and Langston, and husband AJ.
